

RUN # 6 BAMBOO HUT

The runs are getting bigger but not better. The throngs gathered on the beach ready for what was to be a momentous occasion – that's right, Bups doing the hare's job for the first time in Timor. 'Bout 10 hashers wandered down and we headed off through the villages of this tropical paradise. As we hit the corner we cum across this bloody whopping hill that only went up and up and up. On On up was the sound in a pretty stuffed muffled voice as Kalay went on further. At last we hit the top then following trail went down into another village. A cheque was found, and they went all over the place trying to find trail. A falsie led us to another and then another but the trail ended rather abruptly (think that's how u spell it) and On Home we went not even 20 minutes into the run. Diak was happy as that meant more piss plus I think he was worried as there were two Kiwi's behind. ??
