RUN NO. 65 REPORT – DRIBBLER & DEEP THROAT'S ROUND THE HOUSES RUN

Between the holidaying Hare and the moonlighting Hare they have managed to avoid producing a run report and so the following is my vague recollection of the vague details of the vague run.

"Short, flat run, no hills, no water." For once it was true! What is Hash coming to when you can't even mistrust the Hares.

Then it was along the beach road, turn onto another road, turn on to another road, turn onto another road, .... "We're the Fukawi!" It was all false trails and roads. Where were the open spaces, the drains, the private property, the beer stops (Oh. Wrong Hash.), etc. etc.

A few overenthusiastic Hashers, such as Ian, Phil and EJACULATION, followed false trails until they were out of site, while Newbies, Mandy and husband Carl, showed experienced Hash cunning by staying strategically behind Hare DRIBBLER all the way. PRETENDER and WEE WILLIE, as usual, used their Hash instincts and only followed the correct trail at each Check-it-out. WEE WILLIE actually did very well, gaining an SCB distinction without his pacemaker, SEXON, to help him along.

Eventually the pack straggled into the park outside the Dili Port entrance and exchanged pleasantries with each other while waiting (a long time) for the walkers to turn up. But at least this time we didn't have to do push-ups while we waited.

Once assembled on the purpose-made concrete slab, the Choirmistress, PERSPIRATION, led a rather longer than usual rendition of Father Abraham.

Then it was On On by the most circuitous route possible, actually leaving the main road briefly to cut through another small park, to the second Hold Check at the lighthouse where, after not such a long wait for the walkers, we were treated to a new song by our Choirmistress, in seven different languages. (The World Bank aren't paying you enough PERSPIRATION!)

We were now about half a kilometre from Home, as the crow flies, but obviously they don't have crows where DRIBBLER comes from because it took about fifteen more minutes of zig zagging through the back streets of Motael before we joined the walkers for the Circle on the beach in front of the Dili Club.

The verdict on the run was that the company was excellent. But you've got to give credit to the fact that DRIBBLER and DEEP THROAT actually spread some flour round the streets of Dili for us to follow. Maybe it was done half an hour before the run started and maybe it was done from a car but at least they made the effort. What about some more volunteers?

Proof that we do have runners and walkers!

A blind man, enters a Lesbian Bar by mistake. He finds his way to a bar stool, and orders a drink. After sitting there for a while, the blind guy yells to the bartender "Hey, you wanna hear a blonde joke?"

The bar immediately becomes absolutely quiet. In a husky, deep voice, the woman next to him says, "Before you tell that joke, you should know something. The bartender is blonde, the bouncer is blonde and I'm a 6' tall, 200 lb. blonde with a black belt in karate. What's more, the woman sitting next to me is blonde and she's a weight lifter. The lady to your right is a blonde, and she's a pro wrestler. Think about it seriously, Mister; You still wanna tell that joke?"

The blind guy says, "Nah, not if I'm gonna have to explain it five times."

THE WEEKLY FEES ARE NOW US$3.00

CIRCLE CIRCUS

The beach outside the Dili Club was a superb setting while the big turnouts and the large number of Newbies continued. Let's hope it keeps up.

BROWNEYE opened the proceedings by likening the run to another great beach party celebrating the same anniversary. Dunkirk. Not quite the same degree of planning nor the number of casualties though, but probably just as enjoyable!

A relatively quiet Circle followed with occasional loud moments courtesy of BROWNEYE (probably trying to simulate the Dunkirk bombardment). There seemed to be some reluctance to press charges from the Circle, probably through fear of reversal. Don't be timid folks. What's the worst that can happen? Another free drink with everyone watching! That can't hurt.

EJACULATION made a pig of himself this week and was a runaway honours winner. Not only did he take the award for most Down Downs but the POTW as well. And though he looked a little surprised at picking up the major prize he eventually put it away in style. I'm sure he will use the fear-of-next-week's-award against anyone who offends him during the week.

A full HITS team, with ample reserves, turned out on Tuesday to do battle (of wits) at the Dili Club. They didn't win but they didn't disgrace. However if you feel that your IQ would raise the team's average above 50 please contact the chief Oracle, Browneye, on 0407 939660 and book your place for Tuesday, 7 August..

Three very appropriate namings were carried out. However, two were a matching pair and the recipients will have to move around together from now on.

The third proved somewhat inappropriate as the recipient nearly choked while trying to empty the large DD vessel.

Another sad farewell followed as we said goodbye to BABE. Trust you will wear your DH3 T shirts in only the best places! The proceedings ended with an invitation from the Landlord for free beer each at the Dili Club. (Give him free membership!)

*Dear DH3 Hashers
I am sorry that I could not make it for my last run, next Sunday (29 July) I will be in Sweden already.
It has been a pleasure to meet the few times I have shown up, and I will always wear the DH3 shirts with pride.
Best regards,
Borje (Absolut)*
