HASH TRASH

The 300th Run (held last week)

And what a turn out it was. 3 back-to-back runs, food and beer provided along with, wait for it, "changing rooms" at the 2001. Rooms by the hour are usually called something else, but hey, hash is flexible!

Squatter has kindly dropped some incriminating evidence here:

<http://wombathole.com/dilihash/Dili-300th-Run.pdf>

Main events included the election of a new RA (Congratulations Oink, may the Lord VB Bless your reign), and the election of the first Prick of the Year (POTY), Tail-Light. I can't remember what the charge was apart from that it included mascara (it was that kind of night) but it must have been serious. What a prick!

POTY

Run 306 – the "Duty Free" run

A troubling new dimension to Hash in Dili seems to be the use by hares of multiple colours at random (after 15 attempts to decide the location of hash!), and this hash was no exception. Violent pink and invisible black set the scene for a mystery walk/run about the airport and the world's favorite multi-function canal, the Colmera River.

↑ That down-down wasn't all beer, urgh, pass that bucket....

→ The new RA watches rapt as Cumilla un-sheathes the new song-dong

The Circle

No-one bat an eyelid when Cumilla decided the time was right to declare the former song-dong "missing presumed dead", with a replacement procured at great personal expense and moral threat from the homewares section at Leader.

The resulting chaos led to the loss of a tooth, some sideshow-alley action from a hasher with loose shorts, discussions on hash genealogy (the "Jack Shit" line), as well as the ultimate charging of the incorruptible Corruption for for being unable to discipline the hares.

I wonder if this would remove a tooth?

↑ Did I just see that up his shorts?
→ Yes, tooth removed and it didn't hurt at all, must be the beer...

Officer, it was him...

You got me, it's a fair cop

Anyone mind if I squat?

I know Jack
Shit, personally.

Did I really see that up his shorts?

Me me me...
