RUN NO. 73 REPORT – RUIPAH & HAI DROLIK's TRACKERS' TRAINING COURSE RUN

The object of the exercise was to set an interesting run in a new venue and to introduce the newer Hashers to another method of keeping the pack together – which, as we all know(!), is the basic objective of all Hash runs.

The trail marks were a variety of Off White and Betel Nut Red paint interspersed with flour. Thus the runners had to improve their powers of observation while searching at various eye levels.

After a protracted wait for the Beer Master, her Transport Manager and the goodies, we set off from the shooting range venue and headed round the nearby headland with BUSHWANKER and BALD EAGLE showing twinkle-toes agility over the rocks. (BUSHWANKER maintained his FRB and near-FRB ranking throughout the run but poor old BALD EAGLE paid for his early exertions and exited when the trail passed close to Home after the first HC.)

The trail then weaved through and around the mangroves, across the main road and then tantalisingly close to the inviting hills on the other side before heading back on the main road to meet the walkers at the nearest vantage point. After shocking the Newbies with the sophistication of our mid-run entertainment (“PERSPIRATION and the Muppets” singing and animating the ‘Wabbit Hunting Song’) it was a short detour along the ridge and then a zig-zagging run through the thickets across the road again and another teasing ‘Are we going up that FBH?’ leg.

Unfortunately the less said about the tracking ability of the majority of the DH3 runners the better. The word abysmal comes to mind but we don't want to be too unkind. There was some improvement by the time the run was over but the majority were content to stand and wait (and rest) until someone else found the trail.

RAMROD was prominent among the few exceptions who became quite adept at spotting the off-white marks on the white eucalypt trunks, the betel nut red on the similar coloured rocks and the dollops of flour amongst the piles of white ashes left after the recent bush fires.

At least the conversation that this style of trail marking produced never slackened during the whole run. Even low profile EJACULATION was heard to utter a flattering comment or two.

After CATFISH and BIGHORN had finished climbing every unlikely looking trail leading up into the hills the pack moved on to HC2 which was the highest pimple on the next ridge along the bay. But not before the soon-to-be-named STROKER tried to clear a stubborn tree out of his way along the narrow hillside track. That's what you call ‘using your head’. However the tree is still there. How's your head STROKER?

Leaving HC1 like lambs to the slaughter!

From the magnificent vantage point at HC2 is was On On along the ridge, down across the road and on to the beach where an On Home notice was prominently displayed. That is, for all except UGLY DAVE, HOTLIPS, BONER, EJACULATION, RIGID, RAMROD, BUSHWANKER, Jayne and Neil who decided to follow a trail that they found more inviting, not to mention more adventurous, than the one carefully marked by the Hares.

The On Home was a pleasant 1 kilometre jog along the beach especially for WEE WILLIE and SEXON who were obviously a bit low on energy as a result of all their recent night shifts.

For the statistically minded the total run was approximately 6 km long.

CIRCLE CIRCUS

CD of photos from Hash Runs 56 to 73 available from Haidrolik.

Another 50 Hasher turn out and another new venue, this time to the east of Dili near the beach between the Jesus statue and Hera.

A lively Circle with plenty of audience participation testing our GM's leadership abilities.

Six Newbies were welcomed including an experienced Hasher with a name which necessitated a reformatting of the DH3 members list!

Surprisingly it was the, as yet, unnamed

Jayne, who made the most trips to the centre of the Circle. (Trying hard to influence the naming committee perhaps.)

Close behind were the high profile pair of BALD EAGLE and Newbie (but certainly not new to Hash) DING DONG MAKARENA.

In all, the GM managed to get 41 of the assembled 50 members into the Circle for a free beer (or water in some cases). Well done GM Fortunately we didn't have to say farewell to anyone for a change but we did welcome back a few old faces.

Melissa was renamed by the Naming Committee, who thought better of their efforts last week, and Ian was given a real Hash name in place of the alias he has been using since he came to Dili.

DRIBBLER made a return to his knees with a bang by winning the POTW contest with no less than four charges.

- GM charged CATFISH for warning RANDY about 'hats in the Circle'
- BIGHORN charged MAKASSAR MOON for 'long socks'
- BALD EAGLE charged DING DONG MAKARENA for being the first back after short-cutting. REVERSED

- UGLY DAVE charged WHIP ME for not short-cutting(?)
- BONER charged HAIDROLIK for 'leaning' on his pen while writing the Trash notes
- GM charged LACERATION for 'long socks'
- LACERATION charged GM for making SEXON get on her knees in front of him in public
- DROP SHORT charged Ingrid for likening the Hash Circle to boarding school

NAMING Melissa, who last week became KUMKWAT now becomes FLOSSIE for yet another prominent feature Ian who has masqueraded under the name TWO STROKE for several weeks now becomes STROKER as the result of a completely different interpretation

POTW DRIBBLER easily overcame the challenge from UGLY DAVE and would have won the award on any of his four charges. Not fixing up the power supply at the Fomosa Building, kicking out his guests early on Sunday morning, giving SEXON a snack pack of camel instead of steak and, worst of all, not delivering the Hash beer to Hash Beermaster on time.

"I didn't need to know that Bald Eagle" (Jayne tries to impress the Naming Committee.)

I feel sorry for people who don't drink. When they wake up in the morning, that's as good as they're going to feel all day. Frank Sinatra

Investment Advice
If you bought $1000 worth of Nortel stock one year ago, it would now be worth $49. If you bought $1000 worth of Budweiser (the beer, not the stock) one year ago, drank all the beer, and traded in the cans for the nickel deposit, you would have $79. Clearly, drinking heavily is a relatively sound investment.

When I read about the evils of drinking, I gave up reading. Henny Youngman
When I was younger I hated going to weddings...it seemed that all of the aunts and the grandmotherly types would come up to me, poke me in the ribs, and tell me,

"You're next." However they stopped doing it very quickly after I started doing the same thing to them at funerals.

When we drink, we get drunk. When we get drunk, we fall asleep. When we fall asleep, we commit no sin. When we commit no sin, we go to heaven. Sooooo, let's all get drunk and go to heaven! Brian O'Rourke
